Ny roman af den australske bestsellerforfatter Kate Morton, hvori den unge kriminalbetjent Sadie Sparrow bliver optaget af at finde den sande historie bag en 70 år gammel familietragedie. Et forladt hus ... Sadie Sparrow er på tvungen orlov fra sit job som kriminalassistent ved Londons politi. Hun søger tilflugt hos sin morfar i Cornwall, men går hvileløst omkring, indtil hun en dag falder over et forladt hus i skovens dyb og hører en historie om en lille dreng, der forsvandt sporløst. Et forsvundet barn ... Juni 1933. Familien Edevane har travlt med at forberede den store midsommerfest på deres landsted, Lake House. Særligt den 16-årige datter Alice er ved at sprænges af forventningens glæde. Ikke alene har hun fundet den perfekte slutning til den roman, hun skriver på, men hun skal også mødes med den mand, som hun i al hemmelighed er stormende forelsket i. Inden aftenen er omme, har en tragisk begivenhed dog ramt familien.

Et uløst mysterium ... 70 år senere lever den ærværdige Alice Edevane et stille og tilbagetrukket liv som krimiforfatter i et af Londons fineste kvarterer. Lige indtil en ung kvindelig kriminalassistent banker på døren og begynder at stille Alice spørgsmål om fortiden og borer i de hemmeligheder, Alice har forsøgt at flygte fra hele sit liv. Pressen skriver: »Kærlighed, tab og store (familie)hemmeligheder er alle omdrejningspunkt i Kate Mortons romaner [...] I Lake House holder hun fast i temaerne, og dette er hendes mest perfekte roman.«
